Movie Title: The Pursuit of Happyness

I. Basic Understanding

1. Who is the main character and what challenges did he face?

The main character is Chris Gardner. He faced many hard challenges and he had no money, his wife left him and he became homeless. He had to sleep in shelters and even a public bathroom with his young son while trying to keep a job.

2. What was Chris Gardner's main goal in the movie?

to provide a stable, better life for his son

II. Reflection and Insights

3. What important lesson/s did you learn from the movie?

I learned that your current situation does not define your future. Even if things are very hard today, you can change your life through hard work and by never giving up on your dreams.

4. Which scene impacted you the most? Why?

The scene where Chris and his son sleep in the subway bathroom. It was very emotional because it showed how much he sacrificed to keep his son safe

5. How did Chris Gardner demonstrate perseverance, discipline, and responsibility?

Perseverance - He kept going even after being arrested and losing his home.

Discipline - He worked faster than everyone else at the office so he could pick up his son on time.

Responsibility - He always put his son's needs before his own.

III. Application to Work (SPES/GIP Experience)

6. As a SPES/GIP beneficiary, how can you apply Chris Gardner's attitude toward your assigned tasks?

I can stay focused on my tasks and not complain when things get difficult. I should treat every task as an opportunity to learn and improve.

7. What work values from the movie are important in public service (e.g., punctuality, dedication, initiative)?

Punctuality - being on time.

dedication - doing your best, and initiative - doing work without being asked are very important in serving the public well.

8. How can you contribute positively to your office or community based on what you learned?

By being a reliable worker and having a positive attitude. Like Chris, I can try to find solutions to problems instead of just focusing on the difficulties.

IV. Personal Development

9. What challenges are you currently experiencing, and how can the movie inspire you to overcome them?

I am currently struggling with the heavy workload and pressure of school, but the movie inspires me to stay focused and keep studying hard because it proves that dedication can turn difficult situations into a successful future.

10. After watching the movie, how do you define "success" and "happiness"?

Success is not just about money. it is about reaching your goals through honest work. Happiness is the feeling of peace and pride you get when you finally overcome your struggles.

V. Overall Feedback

11. Would you recommend this movie to fellow SPES and GIP beneficiaries? Why or why not?

Yes. It is a perfect movie for interns because it teaches us to value our opportunities and work hard, no matter where we start in life.

12. Rate the movie (1–5 stars): ★★★★★
